Brian serves as Virginia Credit Union's Senior Vice President of Member Business Services, and has been part of the financial industry since 2004. Brian enjoys working with local entrepreneurs who are the backbone of our local economy. Success and growth of the local businesses bring jobs and housing to the community.

Brian enjoys the member owning aspect of Virginia Credit Union. When the organization is faced with a decision, the first question that is asked is, "how does this affect members?" This dynamic creates a very different culture and uniquely focuses on the members.
